How you can contribute to Rust Aarhus

- Join the events
- Join our chat room on Matrix
- Spread the word on social medias and on your job
- Give a talk - we need talks from all experience levels and everything from 5-45 minutes
- Ask your boss if he would like to sponsor a meetup - he will be given 5-10 minutes to talk

What is Hack and Learn?

This evening you are free to do whatever you like - as long it is related to Rust!

We will split out into clusters. You decide if you want to setup a cluster, or if you prefer to join other clusters.

A cluster can live throughout the evening, or just be a ten minute session.

Start a new cluster whenever you like.

Attend any cluster you like.

Suggestions:

- Get feedback for your coming new crate, application, or blog post.
- Get help understanding a Rust concept or a new crate.
- Contribute to an open-source project.
- Get your code reviewed.
- Get help debugging your application.
- Create a new project and work on it together.
- Have fun on codewars or exercism.
- Learn the very basics of Rust if you are a complete beginner.

Forming the clusters

- How many are complete beginners, and would like to join the rustlings cluster? (rustlings is a collection of exercises, targeted beginners)
- Announce your initial cluster - Feel free to create new clusters later.
